Expressions

“Delhi Machine Tool Expo provides a good opportunity, especially for the small manufacturers to display their capabilities to secure valuable orders.”

Sukriti Likhi, Hon'ble Joint Secretary, Department of Heavy Industry, Government of India

“The industrial scenario in North is vibrant with it being an important hub for major industry segments such as Automobile, Auto components, Die and mould, Heavy engineering, etc. We see the market as one of our prime areas of business that holds great potential for our future growth.”

Himanshu P. Shaparia, Vice President – Sales, Jyoti CNC Automation Limited

“Regional shows like DMTX facilitate reaching those potential users in small cities of North India who may not make it to bigger shows happening far from them. The show is an apt platform to present innovations in our products to them and explore business opportunities.”

Sanjay K. Saha, Vice President – Marketing, Electropneumatics & Hydraulics India Private Limited

“This is our second time at DMTX. Although the market is slow, this is the time when people look for new technologies and new ways of working.”

Gaurav Sarup, Managing Director, Marshall Machines Ltd
